KENTUCKY WEATHER REPORT.

What We May Expect Between This Time and To-morrow Evening.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White streamer—FAIR; Blue—RAIN or SNOW;
With Black ABOVE—Twill WARMER GROW.
If Black's BENEATH—COLDER 'twill be;
Unless Black's shown—no change we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening.

A LEAP YEAR EPISODE.

He leaped into the carriage
As she held the leaping horse,
And then leaped in beside him; then
They all leaped on their course.

The stars that shone above them
Seemed to leap and sing for joy;
And a tender love-light seemed to leap
To the sweet eyes of the boy.

With strong right arm she guided
The leaping horse full well;
Her left pressed to her leaping heart
Her love. Then silence fell—

Upon them; and the leaping bells
Made merry music for
And leaping heads into love,
Their leaping hearts did sing.

Then leaped a question from her lips:
From his there leaped a "Yes";
What more was said as leaping home
They came, let each one guess.

And when her mother asked her why,
This leap year act she'd done,
She said: "Such things have been good form
Since eighteen ninety-one."

WITH MUSIC AND RECITATION

The Scholastic Year at Hayswood Closed Last Night—Roll of Honor.

The school year at Hayswood ended last night in a most attractive manner. A large crowd was present at the closing exercises, which were held in the College Chapel, and was highly entertained. The program was full of interest and was artistically rendered.

The following is the Roll of Honor of Hayswood for the school year that closed last night.

In order to secure a position on this roll the pupil must have a general average in deportment, attendance and recitation of at least 95%, and these are the names of those who have reached this high standard:

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

Miss M. Hortense Davis.....Helena

Miss Florence Barkley.....Maysville

Miss Mary A. Finch.....Maysville

Miss Alberta Glascock.....Maysville

Miss Flora Hunter.....Washington

Miss Mary Noyes.....Maysville

Miss Lucy Lyle.....Lobanon, Ky.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

Mary Hall.....Maysville

Mary Mebane.....Maysville

Mary Mitchell.....Maysville

Nettie Smith.....Maysville

Grace Smith.....Cincinnati

Florence Smith.....Cincinnati

Carrie Shackelford.....Maysville

Miss Maud Downing of Mason county received especial mention for regularity in attendance, which this state or country was challenged to surpass. For the second term she has traveled ten miles every school-day of the year without missing a roll-call.

As showing the steady and conscientious work done by the teachers, it was stated by the Principal that during the entire year but one teacher had failed to be present at the recitation of her classes, and she but a single day, and then on account of illness.

A Comforting Letter.

As there are so many conflicting reports concerning the prevalence of smallpox in the up-river towns, THE LEDGER is glad to print the following letter, received from an official source by Dr. J. H. Samuel of this city:

GALLIPOLIS, O., June 9th, 1892.

J. H. Samuel, M. D., Maysville, Ky.

Dear Doctor: Yours of the 8th at hand. We have no smallpox here. Had one case here and it is convalescing.

At Pomeroy there are some twenty cases; yesterday's report shows only one new one at Mason City, W. Va. There have been in all thirty-three cases; one or two at Minersville, and at Letart, W. Va., there are some few cases—have been unable to ascertain the exact number.

We are guarding the up-river boats and all trains from the infected district; boats only carry salt and iron out of Pomeroy; the Pittsburgh packets only landing at Ravenswood, and at no other point below until reaching this place.

I feel confident we will have no more here. We are using every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease any further down the river. I am, yours respectfully,

J. T. HANSON, M. D., Medical Inspector.

In addition to the above, Dr. Samuel has letters from physicians at Pomeroy and Middleport which give hope that the disease is on the decline.

REV. GEORGE P. STURGES of Chicago will marry Miss Lizzie Rainey at Mt. Sterling on the 23d.

PLANS have just been completed for the construction of another great irrigating canal, with reservoirs in Arizona, in the Santa Cruz Valley, and when it is completed 300,000 more acres of the Great American Desert will be supplying the finest kind of fruits and grains and other products for the Eastern markets.

The canal will be seventy miles long and thirty feet wide at the bottom, and the construction of the work will cost about $1,200,000.

AMSTERDAM, a city of about 370,000 population, though built in a bog, many of the houses standing on piles driven 50 feet into the morass, is one of the cleanest cities in Europe. All waste and refuse collecting
